Dear Customers,

In light of the emerging novel coronavirus (COVID-19) infection affecting global business, we would like to update our valued customers on the possible effects to our operations.

As of date, our office and warehouse is operating as normal. We have not experienced significant delays in receipt of goods from our suppliers and orders will be processed as usual. We are in continual contact with our partners globally and we will advise of any changes to our delivery commitments as soon as possible. We are also monitoring local freight services and will communicate changes to transit times if affected.

Our sales counter in Keysborough is currently open for over-the-counter sales and customer pickups. We will be following advise from relevant authorities to ensure the health and safety of our customers and staff. Any changes to regular opening hours will be communicated via our website.

We are monitoring the situation closely and are working to ensure minimal disruption to our operations. We appreciate your business and offer our continued support.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact us at sales@alliedconnectors or call us directly on 1300 793 466.
